

Community Readiness in a Disaster

The NC Cooperative Extension, Nash County Center is providing this disaster preparedness program to the community. We will be able to work with families, communities, faith-based institutions, and organizations to prepare for an emergency by offering sessions on:

- Pre-disaster planning for townships, faith-based institutions, non-profits and community/neighborhood and youth groups.
- Help create emergency plans/procedures and emergency kits.
- Review what important documents should be protected, and explain ways to protect these documents.

For more information, or to plan a disaster preparedness session, please contact Traci Dixon at (252) 459-9810, or email traci_dixon@ncsu.edu.
